VOL. 55—NO. 44

JACKSONVILLE, ILLINOIS SUNDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 20, 1921

FOURTEEN PAGES—THREE CENTS

DRASTIC RESTRICTION OF IMMIGRATION

WILL LIMIT NUMBER FOR TWELVE MONTHS TO ABOUT 355,000

Measure Offered As Substitute
For Johnson Bill Recently Passed--Will Become Effective In
Two Months--Estimates of The Number From Each Country.

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—A drastic measure against immigration during the next year was adopted today by the senate which by the overwhelming vote of 61 to 2 passed
the Dillingham immigration restriction bill after adding amendments to increase its restrictive features. In the form adopted the bill, it is estimated, would limit the number of immigrants during the next twelve months to slightly over 355,000.

The Dillingham bill was adopted as a substitute for the Johnson bill passed recently by the house. The latter would bar for a year all immigrants except relatives of aliens now in this country. The bills now go to conference for adjustment.

Advocates of the Dillingham substitute declared that it would keep out more immigrants than the Johnson measure.

Goes Into Effect In Two Months.
Both bills would go into effect
within two months the Dillingham measure effective for two years and the Johnson bill for eighteen months. It took the Senate less than five hours today
to dispose of the immigration legislation, a record, according to leaders for a measure of such importance.

Before passing the Dillingham
substitute the Senate defeated, 43 to 19, motion to adopt the Johnson bill.

Forty percent less immigrants
would be admitted under the Dil-lingham bill as it passed the Senate than as reported by the Senate immigration committee. This was accomplished by reducing the basis of immigration from five percent to three percent of the total number of aliens in this country according to the 1910 census.

The amendment was offered by Senator Harrison, Democrat, of Mississippi, who led the fight to make the legislation more drastic.

Under another amendment
wives and children of aliens who have applied for citizenship, would be given preference in admission.

Another amendment struck out
a clause authorizing admissions
when deemed justifiable as a "measure of humanity."

Number of Countries.
The three percent standard of the bill according to committee
estimates, would permit the following number of immigrants
during the next year after the bill
becomes law:

Belgium	1,482
Denmark	5,419
France	3,523
Germany	75,040
Netherlands	3,596
Norway	12,116
Sweden	19,956
Switzerland	3,745
United Kingdom	77,206
Or a total of 22,212 from West- ern Europe.

The maximum number estimated from Northern and Southern Europe is:

Austria-Hungary, 50,117; Bul- garia, 347; Serbia, 139; Montene- gro 161; Greece, 3,038; Italy, 40,-

Allege Attempt to Bar All Osteopaths

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 19.—
Charging the Sangamon county
medical association with acting in line with a "nationwide propaganda launched by the American Medical Association to exclude
the practice of osteopathy from every hospital in the United States," organized osteopaths of this city tonight protested to the Springfield Commercial association, threatening withdrawal of support if the attempt of the doctors of medicine is successful.

This action followed adoption of a resolution by the Medical association urging that osteopaths,
chiropractors and Christian Scientists be barred from all city hospitals, and a ruling by the association that any of its members would be summarily expelled, if found associating with either of such practitioners, profession-

INVESTIGATION ENDS AS USUAL NO ONE GUILTY

This Opinion of Committee After 18
Months Work

PRESIDENT'S BROTHER-
IN-LAW EXONERATED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—
Winding up its eighteen months
investigation of shipping board
operations the select house committee headed by Representative Walsh, issued a formal statement
today holding that R. W. Bolling, brother-in-law of President Wilson and treasurer of the board,
was "not guilty of soliciting or accepting any bribe, gift or gratuity,"
as charged by Tucker K. Sands
former Washington banker,
in connection with a contract
awarded by the board to the Dowry Shipbuilding Corporation.
This was the second statement issued by or on behalf of the committee exonerating men whose names were brought into the investigation. The first, made public several weeks ago, said the committee members did not believe that Charles M. Schwab had received expense money from the government while serving as director general of the emergency fleet corporation as had been charged by an accountant who examined the books of the Beth lehem corporation.

Today's statement came after
Mr. Bolling had reappeared before the committee to reiterate his denial of Mr. Sands' charges and A. M. Fisher, a committee investigator had testified that he had inquired into the matter and found that there was nothing in-regular about transactions between Mr. Bolling and Mr. Sands.

Transactions Personal Ones.
Mr. Fisher said the transactions
were purely of a personal nature.
Mr. Bolling previously had testified that they had to do with payment of funds due him by Mr.
Sands on a house constructed for
the latter some years ago.

Secretary Payne, former chairman of the board was before the committee today for more than an hour reviewing the conditions as found when he became chairman soon after the armistice
was signed.

He said he found the accounting system in bad shape and dismissed several officials and abolished some bureaus in the course of a general shake-up of the organization.

Mr. Payne criticized the merchant marine bill plan of a shipping board of seven members saying that one executive should handle the work. He also attacked congress for proposing abrogation of commercial treaties
so preferential rates might be put into effect.

The secretary also declared that the government could not compete with private shipping interests in operating merchant
craft and reiterated his belief that if American passenger liners are to operate successfully in competition with foreign liners
they must be permitted to sell intoxicated outside the American three mile limit.

CHILE NEEDS HAMPTON ROADS COUNSEL

SANTIAGO, Chile, Feb. 19.—It

action is said to be in consequence of charges of misconduct against

Norfolk police.

POSTUMOUS MOTION PICTURE CENSORSHIP

GENERAL BULLARD STRONGLY OPPOSES DISARMAMENT PLAN

Makes Vigorous Address before National Republican Club

SAYS IT WOULD BE
ASININE KINDNESS

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Major General Robert Lee Bullard,
commander of the second corps
area, vigorously opposed disarmament in an address today
before the national Republican club.

"Any proposition of disarmament
or any limitations of armament
in a trick," he said, "either
to gain or maintain an advantage,
coming from representatives of different nations the discussion always consists of two parts. First a nice diplomatic expression of profound benevolence and friendship toward all other nations; second,
truth, regretful but to them undeniable that they are forced by the other nations to arm and keep armed. To hear them is to laugh."

Discussing the subject from a
"purely American standpoint," General Bullard declared that disarmament—for us would mean the abandonment of our financial superiority over the nations of the earth.

"We have it," he added, "Are
we willing to abandon it—to put ourselves on a level with others?
That would be asinine kindness.
Disarmament alone the speaker
continued does not obviate war,
for unarmed or ill-armed peoples
are continually at war. Culture and arms were linked by the speaker who pointed to Great Britain and Japan now and the Germany of pre-war days as examples. Japan was alluded to as a marked example of "progressiveness and rapidly increasing enlightenment."

"It is a significant fact," declared General Bullard, "that from the money to the American state of their culture and their advancement correspond exactly to the state of their armament. The monkeys that in the struggle of life had had sense enough to pick up and use
a stick as an arm, developed into
men. The others remained monkeys."

Rear-Admiral William S. Sims
took up the question of disarmament
from the naval point of view, declaring the navy is useless, unless it is prepared.

"Many things are claimed for the airplane," he said, "If claims could do it the navy would be abolished."

He advocated adoption of the airplane carrier, saying this would be the battleship of the future. Speaking of the use of gas in warfare, Admiral Sims
admitted it was brutal but characterized it as a legitimate weapon.

REPORTED OFFER IS MADE OF OIL FIELDS

THE HAGUE, Feb. 19.—Reports
in soviet newspapers that the Moscow government has offered oil concessions in Baku to the Royal Dutch oil company have aroused much interest in Dutch financial circles.

According to the reports in the reverting press the Dutch company has received the right to export more than 1,000,000 pounds (a pound is 35 pounds) on condition
that that company shall rebuild
the Russian petroleum industry and furnish rolling stock. The Dutch government recently announced it had no objections to private deals with Russia but that it would decline any responsibility
in connection with them.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Enrico Caruso, world famous tenor to-

and was progressing satisfactorily.
With relapse still possible

nitely pronouncing him convales-

JAMES R. ANGELL IS SELECTED HEAD OF OF YALE UNIVERSITY

Was Chosen by Unanimous Vote by Fellows Corporation

FATHER PRESIDENT
OF MICHIGAN U.

(By The Associated Press)
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 19.—
James Rowland Angell, son of the late President Angell of the University of Michigan, was unanimously elected president of Yale University in succession to President Arthur T. Hadley, by the Fellows of the Corporation
today.

President Hadley, after the election of his successor had been announced made this statement:
"Dr. Angell has a combination of qualities which fit him admirably for the head of Yale. He is a teacher with large administrative experience and a western man thoroughly familiar with eastern ideals. His work with the Carnegie Corporation and his headship of the National Research Council have given him a broad view of the educational questions. Above all he is a man whose character, scholarship and public spirit are in line with the highest traditions of the office."

ADDITIONAL STEPS TAKEN TO STOP THE SPREAD OF TYPHUS

Will Inspect Quarantine Station Now Under State Control

FOREIGN MAIL TO BE DISINFECTED

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Several additional steps were taken
today to check entry of typhus
into this country thru the Port of New York. One of the most important was the arrival here of Surgeon General Cummings.
The United States Public Health Service to inspect the quarantine station now under state control which soon is to be taken over by the federal authorities. Another development was announcement
that a force of extra men including many skilled in handling typhus and other contagious diseases in Cuba, Mexico and abroad
now were on their way to New York.

A third preventative step was supplementing disinfecting equipment at the Hoffman Island
quarantine station with material
used by the army in delousing
world-war veterans returning from overseas.

A fourth innovation was the action of the health department
in disinfecting mail on incoming steamers and providing for disinfection of cars used by various railroads in transporting immigrants' belongings.

CAMPAIGN BEING CONDUCTED QUIETLY

BERLIN, Feb. 19.—On the eve of the election for the Prussian parliament the electoral campaign is at its height but is being carried out quietly in Berlin and most of the industrial districts.

At some points, however, notably Frankfurt and Liegnitz, there have been disorders due to communist activity in attempts to break up Pan-Germanist meetings. At Frankfurt, while Dr.
Heilferrich, former vice-chancellor was speaking, fighting occurred which needed police interference. The results of the polling are expected before Tuesday.

bers of the Illinois congressional delegation. Signers were Representatives McKinley, Cannon,
Mann, Madden, Rodenberg, Mc-Kenzie, Wilson, Copley, Fuller,

son, Chindblom, Graham, Ireland,

OFFICERS STILL WRANGLE ABOUT CAPITAL SHIPS

Differ as to Relative Value of Warships
and Airplanes

WOULD CONTINUE
PRESENT PROGRAM

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—In the course of argument today before the senate naval committee as to the relative worth of capital
ships and flying machines high naval officers disclosed that a bomb weighing 1,600 pounds and loaded with T. N. T., had been exploded recently aboard the Old Battleship Indiana without destroying any part of the vessel below its protective deck.

The officials were called before the committee after Rear-Admiral William F. Fullam, retired former superintendent of the naval academy had urged suspension of part of the 1916 building program to determine the future value of capital ships in view of the development of aircraft and submarines.

The admiral told the committee that the American navy as now constituted was a one-plane affair with surface ships only and was disorganized and unprepared for war. He urged that the money saved by suspending work
on the ships be given to the immediate development of the air forces and submarines so that the navy might speedily be converted into what he called a
"three plane fight machine,"
composed of battleships, aircraft
and submarines.

Count Opposes Suspension.
Admiral Coontz, chief of naval operations called by Senator Poinsett, Republican of Washington, who prepared the committee's recent report favoring capital ships strongly opposed any suspension of work on the superdreadnaughts and battle
cruisers building or authorized.

He said the naval general board believed in submarines and also in aviation and pointed out that it had asked congress to provide for two speedy airplane carriers
to serve with the fleet.

"The board," said Admiral Coontz, "approves experiments in bombing and with torpedoes at sea on battleships under radio control between now and June 1
and we must study the effect carefully. The board does not believe we should let up on battleships or battle cruisers. Everyone should be pushed. With them we are safe as possible until the air has been developed."

Similar views were expressed by Rear-Admiral Taylor, chief constructor of the navy and Rear-Admiral McVey, chief of naval ordnance.

"Two nations are in advance of us with 16-inch guns on their ships," Admiral McVey said, "we have one and already suffer the disadvantage."

Captain Craven, chief of naval aviation, told the committee that aviation had a bright future and that all nations were adding its power to their naval strength.

CHARLES E. HUGHES IS NAMED SECRETARY OF STATE BY HARDING

Formal Announcement Which Came Yesterday Created No Surprise as He Has Been Considered for Many Weeks—The New Secretary Announces Policy of Publicity

(By The Associated Press)
ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Feb. 19.—Charles Evans Hughes,
former governor of New York, justice of the supreme court and Republican nominee for the presidency, was formally designated by President-Elect Harding today as secretary of state of the coming administration. The announcement embodying the first official word from the president-elect regarding selections for membership in his family of counsellors was made in a simply worded oral statement after a long conference between the two men on the foreign problems that must be solved after March 4.

There was no element of surprise in the selection for it had been known for several weeks
that Mr. Hughes virtually was certain to be given the place. He is understood to have been Mr. Harding's choice from the first despite strong pressure on behalf of other aspirants.

In making this announcement,
Mr. Harding declined to go into details about subjects discussed with Mr. Hughes during their all-day conference, saying that one of the policies of his administration would be to let each department head speak for himself. Mr.
Hughes, in turn, declared no public statement on the problems
ahead would be expedient at this time.

Deems It Great Privilege.
"Of course," he added, "I appraise it as a great privilege to be invited by Senator Harding to serve in his administration and I regard it as an imperative obligation to accept."

It was generally understood,
however, that diplomatic appointments to be made at the outset of the new administration furnished
one of the topics talked over and matter was in consideration also
of preliminary steps to be taken toward an association of nations.

Altho neither Mr. Harding and Mr. Hughes would divulge the opinions expressed during their consultation, the general impression is that the first diplomatic approaches to other nations in regard to a peace association will be
of an entirely informal character.
No official diplomatic correspondence is expected on the subject until the attitude of other powers
has been felt out quietly and some bases for negotiations established.

Mr. Hughes will bring to the secretaryship of state a legal training of unusual scope as well
as a mind sympathetic to international agreement and maintenance of peace. During the treaty fight,
he advocated reserved ratification
of the Versailles league and proposed several reservations which were considered by the Senate majority in the preparation of its final program.

Pushing of Publicity.

The only question Mr. Hughes was willing to answer tonight in regard to the policies of his department as related to publicity.
Asked whether he intended to follow the precedent of the present administration in holding periodical conferences with newspapermen, he replied with an emphatic
affirmative, adding that he wanted to give the fairest publicity to every department question that would permit of public discussion.

Altho the conference with Mr.
Hughes occupied virtually all of the President-elect's attention
during the day, he had several other callers.

ONLY WATER AND NEAR BEER TO DRINK

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—America's alcoholic aridity caused a terrible storm in mid-ocean today.

Torrents of Italian idioms and thundering comments on near beer, drowned the ether with such a wireless message as no one ever received before.

It made the well known tempest in the tea pot look trifling.

The radio disturbance emanates
from the Steamer Vindobona,
which recently left this port.

"Never again!" cracked over the wireless today, after the sailors progressed six hundred miles
with nothing but near beer and water to quench their thirst.

Will Never Return.
"We pledge ourselves never to return to America while its laws
against good wine remain in force.
We will see that no crew ever brings the Vindobona back to meet the horrors we have met. Never again!"

The ship's agents hoped the crew meant what it said, about never coming back. When the sailors were in New York the agents explained, they demanded
long shore leaves, theater tickets,
newspapers in three languages,
delivered on deck each morning
and new clothes to wear on Broadway and Fifth avenue.

Then, after they had been at sea two days, they forced the skipper to put back to port, claiming that the ship was leaking.
When they returned to New York
they complained that their wine was gone. Thumbs went down on all talk of supplying liquids compatible with changes in the constitution. Finally the crew grudgingly accepted 150 cases of near beer
and once more went to sea.

Push Fordney Bill Over Another Hill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—employed every parliamentary maneuver at their command to tie it up in the last 45 hours but they went down to defeat before the superior numbers on the Republican side of the house. They believed however, that several opportunities remain to sidetrack
the measure. House Democratic leaders were understood to have appealed to some of the Democratic senators to help them in solidifying their lines.

Debate in the house where supporters of the bill sought to send it to conference and opponents tried to force a reference to the ways and means committee developed little new argument.

There was, however, more use of opponents of the claim that the tariff would mean a higher cost of living. Supporters depended entirely upon the plea that the farmers must have speedy relief.

Opponents of the tariff had prepared for a battle in the conference the majority leaders
hinted they would attempt to shove the bill thru and take it back to the house in the form in which it passed the senate.

The non-partisan league program in North Dakota began to explode several months ago and it keeps on exploding. The evidence of the failure of this impracticable communistic scheme is found in the series of bank failures. They tried in Dakota to set aside certain economic laws. They tried to make something out of nothing and it cannot be done in North Dakota or in any other state.

ANOTHER CASE OF TOO MUCH REGULATION.
Someone has called attention to the fact—and it is a fact—that one of the bills before the present general assembly proposing to lower rents will instead serve to increase them. The proposed bill puts such burdens upon those who intend to build houses for rental purposes that they will be discouraged from entering into this line of business. It's the old story of attempting too much regulation for a business not susceptible of regulation—one which does not exist by grace of public franchises but must be instead the outgrowth of individual enterprise coupled with individual risk.

THE FARMER IS READY TO AID.
The movement in the form bureau in this county for the collection of corn Feb. 23 for shipment to Europe is a part of a state-wide movement fostered by the Illinois Agricultural Association in conjunction with farm organizations in other states. Certainly the interest that farmers are showing in this movement is an evidence of the generosity that underlies the well-founded discontent over present crop prices. Just the other day one Morgan county farmer sold 8,000 bushels of old corn at less than 35c a bushel.
A year ago he refused $1.70 for this same corn, so that he has sustained a severe loss in this transaction. The instance is typical but no doubt the farmers who have lost heavily will be found along with others in contributing to this good fund. The movement will mean a large sum total of grain for a good use but there is more value than that in the movement, as it tends to build up a spirit of co-operation for unselfish purposes.

Bids opened the past week by the state highway department for hard road construction show figures of about $10,000 per mile less than was true a year ago. This decided drop proves the wisdom on the part of the state officials in postponing the work and gives promise of an active year of road building.

Mr. Bryan in attempting to rebuild the Democratic party, has undertaken just about the most difficult task of his eventful political career. Perhaps it would be a much simpler matter a little later on after Democracy has recovered from the 1920 land slide. In fact, Mr. Bryan would find it a hard matter to discover enough Democrats in many sections to reconstruct.

An Illinois senator is proposing to fix by law a maximum price of 10 cents a gallon for gasoline. While this is being done, why not fix equally low prices on all commodities that the people need? It would be such a handy way of lowering the living costs. The senator who introduced the bill says he is in earnest, but some of his colleagues call the measure a joke.

Two wedding ceremonies recently performed mean country homes for Jacksonville girls. The time was not so very many years ago when a city girl who went to the country to live was secretly pitied by her sympathizing friends. Now it is an entirely different matter and instead of the hardships and privations of farm home life, people know today it's happy surroundings with spaciousness and comforts that are not at all possible in a city.

Some of the foreign newspapers have said that the influence of Lloyd George is about thru. Nevertheless, the premier was sustained the other day in parliament by a vote of 181 to 40 in his governmental policies. Altho attacked daily by some of the English papers and subjected to unending criticism, Lloyd George can with satisfaction compare his case with Cincinnatus, Venizelos and the rest.

THE OLD QUESTION STATES RIGHTS.
A passenger rate of 2c per mile under the old Illinois law was too low when present costs are taken into consideration. Nevertheless there is a strong belief among many residents of this state that the question of railroad rates within Illinois should be a matter of state control. This same big question is up before the people of 19 other states.

Naturally, a great deal of interest will attach to the hearing before the supreme court next week, when the 20 different states will make an effort to show that the interstate commerce commission does not have authority to fix the rates within the different states. If the states' right theory is upheld there will be some subsequent turmoil, but eventually rates fair to all interests concerned can be put into force.

Haw, Haw!
The proprietor of the little dry goods store in the slum section of town was not the tidest personage on earth. His clothes were greasy and his once white shirt and collar were almost black. A grouchy looking man was passing the store and noticed the proprietor standing in the doorway.
"Sir," said the grouchy looking man, "have you any clean shirts in your store?"
"Yes, sir! Yes, sir!" replied the proprietor, scenting a sale. "I have the finest stock of shirts, all new and clean!"
"Then you'd better go in and put one of them on," said the grouchy man.

BRING BACK MY WHITE MULE TO ME.
(By Tooth Barkington.)
Upon the bridge at midnight
The village smithy stands;
His face is in the moonlight,
And in his eye a look of pain,
And in his voice a tear:
He gazes at the Spanish main,
He gazes at his beer,
He stumbles on a splinter
And falls into the foam;
This is the last of Winter,
There is no place like home.

Diagnosed.
A young physician from the city was called in to take the place of an old family doctor in a little country town when the old doctor took a brief vacation. One night the young physician received a hurry call from a farmer who lived about five miles out of town. The young M. D. jumped into his flycar and was soon bending over a bed on which lay a boy who was in evident pain. The doctor examined the boy for a while and located the trouble. But he did not propose to let the simplicity of the ailment prevent him from airing his knowledge of medical terms. He confidently faced the farmer and said:
"This case should cause you no great alarm. It is merely a coruscated exegesis, antispasmodically emanating from the germ of the animal refrigerator, producing a prolific source of irritability in the pericranial epidermis of intertinal profundity."
The farmer looked at the young doctor for a moment, and then said:
"Now, do you know, that's just what I said it was all the time. But my wife insisted that it was nothing but worms!"

Madame X

Greatest Production of the Last Years

Straight to the Heart

The appeal of "Madame X" is not limited to any particular age or sex or class—it goes straight to the heart of all humanity.

"LOVE WAS THE ONLY MOTIVE THAT MADE HER A CRIMINAL. LOVE —AND LOVE ONLY!"

He did not know, as he stood there pleading for her life, that this pitiful, broken creature was his mother. The opinion of press and trade journal experts who have seen "Madame X" is that it is one of the greatest productions of the last ten years.

"Madame X," famed as one of the greatest stage successes has been picturized with even more dramatic power with Pauline Frederick in the most satisfying role of her career. "Madame X" will be talked about by everyone who sees it. We are not telling you this to arouse your enthusiasm—the picture itself will do that better than we could ever hope to. We are telling you the truth, simply and concisely, because you should know the truth about "Madame X," one of the greatest pictures ever screened, and will live in your memory forever. We want you to see "Madame X." We know that you will be impressed by its deep underlying truths, inspired by its theme and enchanted by its massive production.

MISS FERGUSON IS BRIDE OF BAIRD GUNN

Pretty Home Ceremonial Saturday Night United Two Well Known Young People—Will Reside West of City.

The marriage of Miss Lulu Irene Ferguson and Mr. F. Baird Gunn was solemnized at 7 o'clock Saturday night at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Annie B. Ferguson, on South Church street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Myron L. Pontius, pastor of Central Christian church. The double ring service was used, the ring bearer being little Evelyn Gunn, a niece of the bride. The young people were unattended.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Blanche Tripp of Illinois College Conservatory sang, "Oh, Promise Me." During the ceremony Logan's wedding march was played by Mrs. Alice Stein of Chicago.

The bride's gown was of white lace with gold satin band trimming. She wore a veil of tulle caught with rosebuds, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses.

The Ferguson home was prettily decorated for the wedding, pink and white being the ruling colors in the various rooms. Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served by Misses Violet Ferguson and Mardell Henry, nieces of the bride, and Miss Katherine Walsh, a cousin of the bride. The cutting of the bride's cake was an interesting event, the thimble going to Mrs. Grant Ferguson, the darling needle to James Heaton and the ring to Mrs. Nellie Gunn.

The bride and groom were the recipient of a large number of gifts, attesting the good will of their many friends.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Annie B. Ferguson and has always resided in this city. She is a graduate of the local high school and for the past several months has been employed as bookkeeper in the Farrell State Bank. She is a young woman of pleasing personality and is very popular among her friends.

Mr. Gunn is a son of Mrs. J. T. Gunn, residing west of the city, and is also a graduate of the Jacksonville high school. He has for some time been interested in farming operations and is a young man of especial ability.

Mr. and Mrs. Gunn left last night for a brief wedding trip and after March 1 will be at home on a farm seven miles west of the city.

Among the out-of-town guests for the wedding were, Mr. and Mrs. John Arrowsmith, of Quincy; Mr. and Mrs. Byron Waterfield, Lynnville; James Heaton, Murrayville; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Henry, Woodson; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gunn, Springfield; Mrs. Alice Stein, Chicago.

GREAT!

The public hailed "Madame X" as one of the greatest plays ever presented.

Competent critics say that the picture is even greater.

But we want your opinion. We want you to see what we consider the finest part Pauline Frederick has ever played —and the most moving, the most exalted, the most pathetic story ever screened.

CHICKEN THIEVES ARE MANY IN GREENE COUNTY

W. H. Hall, Ill., Feb. 18—Chicken thieves are such a menace as to threaten the poultry industry unless some check is put on it, just as the dog menace already has practically stamped out the sheep industry. W. O. Tankersley, a farmer residing a short distance southeast of town, offers one solution in a checking system that should be adopted by both the seller and the buyer to make it effective.

Mr. Tankersley declares that his losses in chickens this winter is approximately one hundred dollars, and that the total thefts in this immediate vicinity will run into the thousands of dollars. He proposes that when he sells any quantity of chickens to the poultry dealer that he give with the transaction a check showing the amount and character of the sale he has made. These checks are to be kept on file at the office of the poultry dealer, where any transaction can be traced out and every sale of chickens determined. The poultry buyers should require such a check with every purchase they make as a protection to the poultry raisers.

Mr. Tankersley says that his ideas need more study to make it effective, but the idea in the main serves as a protection that must come if the poultry business is to be maintained. He declares that thieves are selling to the poultry houses right along under guises that render their identity difficult.

W. E. SULLIVAN RETURNS FROM BUSINESS TRIP

W. E. Sullivan, president and general manager of the El Bridge company, left last Monday night for a few days' business trip in Chicago and St. Charles, Ill., and returned Friday night closing a busy week in the northern part of the state.

While in Chicago Mr. Sullivan secured a contract to build two Strauss Yielding Barriers, the total cost will be several thousand dollars. This is the El company's second contract for these barriers. Four barriers were completed during January and shipped to Newark, N. J., where they are being erected in Hudson county, that state. Mr. Sullivan also placed orders for various materials in Chicago and St. Charles, among things he bought an additional lathe to help out in the machine department of the company's plant here.

—A name may stand for everything or it may stand for nothing.

—The "Jacksonville Tailoring Company" is only a group of words. Our shop could be called just as well the Athens Tailors.

—Names, however, when they stand for service, for the actual reputation of a concern, built up through years of consistent service to a customer, mean everything.

—The management of the "Jacksonville Tailoring Company" has built a reputation which has placed a value upon its firm name.

—When you see that name you know that it means a place in which reliable clothing is made and sold upon honest terms—a place to which men return again and again to buy because of the sound business principles found in the shop which its name designates.

CARRIED BODIES THRU STREETS ON RIFLES WITNESS TESTIFIES

Thomas Chafin Says the Body of J. W. Ferguson So Carried

WAS SLAIN IN STREET BATTLE

(By The Associated Press.)
WILLIAMSON, W. Va., Feb. 19.—The body of J. W. Ferguson, Baldwin-Felts operative who was killed in the Matewan pistol and rifle encounter last May 19, resting on an improvised litter of rifles, was carried thru a street of the town by men of Matewan shortly after the fight, Thomas Chafin, a witness, told the jury in circuit court today.

Chafin added that when the litter bearers passed him in the street one of them whom he could not identify remarked:

"They brought 'them' in here and they are going out on 'them.'" Asked by counsel what was meant by "they and them" Chafin replied it was his understanding that "they" referred to Baldwin-Felts men and "them" to rifles. Unable to positively identify the litter men the witness said he saw William Bowman, Fred Berghoe, "Doug" Mounts, Art Williams and N. H. Atwood in the party.

All except Atwood are defendants of which there are 19 being tried in connection with the death of Albert C. Felts, slain with nine other men in the fight that followed the eviction of miners' families from houses of the Stone Mountain coal company by Baldwin-Felts operatives.

WARDEN IS REPUTED TO BE MIND READER

Warden Thomas of Ohio Penitentiary Has Keen Insight Into Criminal's Mind—17 Years in Penal Institutions.

(By The Associated Press.)

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 19.—Warden Preston E. Thomas of the Ohio penitentiary here, hasn't given much time to the study of psychology as it is taught in universities and other institutions of learning, from between the covers of books, yet in his 17 years of work in penal and correctional institutions he has so trained his mind to "think as the other fellow does" that he is known among prisoners in the penitentiary as the "mind reading warden."

When a prisoner is haled before the warden for any infraction of the rules, or anything more serious, he usually is advised by his fellows to tell the truth, penitentiary guards say.

"No need to try and cover up. He knows what you are thinking about and he'll find out whether you tell him or not," is the substance of the advice, earnestly given, according to prison attaches.

"Such a title presents an intimate knowledge of nearly every prisoner," Warden Thomas said. "I have a fair knowledge of most every well known crook, the conditions surrounding him, the jobs he's done, and the other things that go to help one to his character."

"When a prisoner is brought before me I immediately try and put myself in his place. I recall all the things I know about him, the circumstances of the offense for which he has been brought before me, and I try and figure out just exactly what I would do were I in his position."

"When he gets evasive in his manners and shows that he doesn't want to come clean, my mind usually has gathered enough data to enable me to get the truth out of him by dropping a few hints that I am pretty well aware of the thing he has done."

Before becoming warden of the Ohio penitentiary Thomas had been an instructor in state reformatories for youths and field worker for penal and correctional institutions. To those experiences he ascribes a great deal of his knowledge of criminals and the criminal mind.

COLBY GIVES NEW DEFINITION OF THE MONROE DOCTRINE

South America Resents it as the Mantle of Protection

POSITION OF UNITED STATES

(By The Associated Press.)

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 19.—South America resents that conception of the Monroe Doctrine which defines it as a mantle of protection or expression of power by North America, but accepts it as an expression of fraternal relations between the two continents, Secretary of State Colby declared in an address before the Academy of Political and Social Science tonight.

Describing his recent voyage to return the visits to the United States made by Presidents Prum of Uruguay in 1918 and Pessoa of Brazil in 1919, he emphasized the great cultural and economic developments of the southern continent and how little the people who dwell below the equator feel that they are dependent upon the United States.

Rules to Succeed.

North Americans who are to succeed in relations with the peoples of South America, he said, can never be those who look upon that continent as an undeveloped business but those who understand the right psychological approach to Latin America and are able and willing to contribute something to its civilization not merely to seek opportunities to exploit it.

"America's position in South America today," he said, "is hardly visible to the naked eye. The trade built up during the war is rapidly vanishing and the merchants of such great cities as Buenos Aires, Rio Janeiro, Montevideo and Santos are turning to their old friends in Europe who speak the same language and have the same sympathies. That trade was only interrupted by war conditions. It was an accident due to the lack of tonnage, a fortunate circumstance, if properly analyzed, but otherwise a background for disappointment."

"KATZENJAMMER KIDS" COME TO GRAND MONDAY

Katzenjammer Kids are the latest of the comic supplement characters to find their way to the stage. These hilarious little fellows are the central figures in a musical comedy that is full of gorgeous scenic effects, novel electrical effects, catchy music, fantastic dances, innocent fun and has a chorus that contains the pick of the beauty marts. They come to the Grand Monday night.

Heretofore the cartoon musical comedies have only had a few of the characters from the comic supplement on the stage, but in "Katzenjammer Kids" all those hilariously funny characters that appear in the cartoons will be on the stage. Mr. Katzenjammer will be there with der Captain, to say nothing of Hans and Fritz and all the rest.

One of the big features is the Fashions plate chorus. These beauties gathered in the world's greatest beauty mart, Broadway, are the fairest flowers from the beauty garden. They are gowned exquisitely and in each and every ensemble number they make a picture that is a delight.

"Katzenjammer Kids" will be the attraction at the Grand theatre for one night Monday, Feb. 21. The play is the work of John P. Mulgrew who wrote the book and lyrics, and Donald H. Bestor, who wrote the music. The piece was staged by that master of stage craft, Virgil Bennett. "Katzenjammer Kids" has been called the world's greatest fun show. Besides all the laughs in the show none of the other popular musical comedy features have been overlooked, making the show a play for everyone, young and old.

TOLEDO PROPOSES TO HONOR CITIZENS

Toledo, O., Feb. 19.—By the A. P.—A place in Toledo's Hall of Fame, the Toledo Museum of Art is proposed by city council as an honor that would be bestowed upon the dozens or more men responsible for the framing and successful execution of an ordinance which has settled the street car question here after political stock had been made of the issue for more than a quarter century.

The plan introduced in council is that photographs of the drafters of the service-at-cost ordinance, under which the Toledo street car system now is operating be framed and placed in the museum along with other noted photographs and paintings now hanging there.

The proposal also would include Mayor Cornell Schreiber, nationally known as the father of the now famous custer ordinance, which a year ago sent the cars into Michigan for a month. One councilman has suggested that some of the newspapermen who were obliged to sit thru the deliberations should be included in the group.

A sale the past week in Piatt county was that of an 80 acre tract which was sold at auction and brought $413 per acre. MISS OLIVE COLBY IS BRIDE OF DONALD JOY

Well Known Young People United In Pretty Home Ceremony—Will Spend Brief Honeymoon In Chicago and Other Northern Points.

It was a ceremony combining simplicity and brilliance which made Miss Olive Mildred Colby and Donald Cooper Joy, both of this city, man and wife. Rites uniting the popular young people were performed at 7:30 o'clock last evening at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Colby Waggener, 297 West College street. Rev. M. L. Pontius, pastor of Central Christian church, was the officiating minister.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Frances Claus played on the piano, "I Love You Truly." The wedding party then descended the stairs as Miss Claus played the march from Lohengrin. Little Florence and John Joy, children of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Joy, of South Church street, strewed flowers in the path of the bride and groom and their attendants. The principals of the wedding took places in the parlor before a bank of ferns. The attendants were Mrs. Harry McCracken of Alma, Mich., and George Coe of this city. The impressive and beautiful ring ceremony united the couple. Congratulations of relatives and friends followed. There were twenty-five guests at the wedding.

For the ceremony the bride wore a gown of navy blue chiffon tulle, with a corsage of sweet peas. Mrs. McCracken, a sister, was attired in navy blue satin and her corsage bouquet was of pink roses. The bride's going away suit was of navy blue tricotine.

After congratulations had been extended, a luncheon was served. The Waggener home had been attractively decorated for the occasion. Ferns, smilax and cut flowers were used to further beautify the rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Joy departed on the 9 o'clock Wabash train for Chicago and other northern points where they will spend their honeymoon. Upon their return they will make their home at 867 West State street.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Colby Waggener. She has been a resident of Jacksonville since childhood, and her personality and accomplishments have won for her numberless friendships. She is one of Jacksonville's most charming and popular young women.

She is a graduate of the high school, Brown's Business College, and was a student of music at Illinois Woman's College.

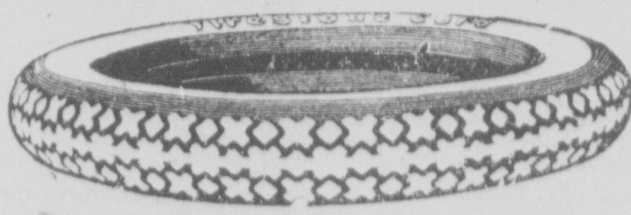

After conclusion of her school life, she held several stenographic positions of responsibility with Jacksonville firms. Mr. Joy is equally as well known and popular in Jacksonville. He is son of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Joy of 867 West State street, and he resided here a number of years. After graduating from high school he attended the university of Illinois and Northwestern University, Evanston. At present he is junior member of the Joy Brothers' garage firm, West Court street.

The ceremony last night joined two of Jacksonville's younger prominent young people, and the congratulations they received and will receive will testify to the highest esteem in which they are held by their home community.

GRANITE CITY WINS FROM JACKSONVILLE

Defeat Local Tossers by Score of 31 to 20—Too Much Senior Junior Prom Got "Nanny" of Jacksonville Five.

Granite City High school defeated Jacksonville High at basketball in David Prince gymnasium Saturday night by a score of 31 to 20.

Granite City presented a strong team and gave a fine exhibition of the game. While it is probable they might have defeated the locals anyway, the members of the local squad evidently had too much Junior-Senior prom Friday night and could not get their dance legs changed to their basketball legs in such a short period.

Coach Mitchell used a large variety of men thruout the game, but none of them seemed to be in form. Wood, Goebel and Hunter scored the points for Jacksonville.

For Granite City, Francis, Winters, Frohardt and Chappell scored the points. The team play of Granite City easily featured the evening's play. The score:

Cass County Team Wins From Routt Tossers by Score of 24 to 23—Many Fouls Called During Game.

Virginia High sprung a surprise on Routt High by defeating them in the game at Liberty hall Saturday night by a score of 24 to 23.

While Routt had expected a hard game they also expected to win for the team has been traveling at a good clip lately and judging from their showing against the strong Spalding team they were logical winners.

The game was a fast one from start to finish and a number of fouls both personal and technical were called by the officials. In this respect, however, Routt suffered more than did Virginia.

Nine personal fouls and one technical foul were called on Routt. Three personal fouls were called on Virginia.

MONDAY AND TUESDAY

That Queen of the Screen

Clara Kimball Young

in

MID-CHANNEL

Sir Arthur Wing Pinero's Wonderful Drama of Love and Life

In this announcement extraordinary, the management of this theatre takes pride and pleasure in presenting the queen of the world's screen, Clara Kimball Young, in the greatest picture of her entire career, "MID-CHANNEL," from the famous stage play by Sir Arthur Wing Pinero.

We term the presentation of this production "AN EVENT" for the public of our city, knowing that all who appreciate the finesse and master touches found only in pictures of the finer sort, will appreciate the dramatic power and ultra-smartness of "MID-CHANNEL" which as you may know, constituted Ethel Barrymore's Sensational Stage Success at the Empire Theatre, New York.

"Mid-Channel" is a magnificent example of the advanced art in the production and presentation of the finer photoplays. It mirrors in every scene and in every action those deep rooted human traits that are common to us all. So careful were the producers of "MID-CHANNEL" to preserve the precise details of every scene, that during the filming of the picture, each actor spoke the actual lines from the play exactly in the same manner as in the original stage presentation at the Empire Theatre in New York. Do not miss this great Photo Dramatic treat.

FEBRUARY THE BIRTHDAY OF MANY NOTABLES.

It may not be generally known that the short month of February has given to America many of the outstanding characters in statesmanship and in the world of letters, and also that the three European authors, Dickens, Ruskin and Hugo most universally loved and read by the American people.

In this panorama of great names Dickens' birthday comes first, February seventh. Ruskin the many sided, follows, February eighth. Then our own incomparable Lincoln on February twelfth. February fifteenth is the birthday of Dr. S. Weir Mitchell, who, aside from his professional services during the civil war, and his development of the method of rest cure for nervous troubles in later years, found time to write at least one great novel, Hugh Wynne.

Next comes Joseph Jefferson, born February twentieth, neither a statesman nor a writer, but truly a worthy interpreter of one of our great writers, Washington Irving in his characterization of Rip Van Winkle on the stage.

February twenty-second marks not only the birthday of George Washington, but of our own beloved Lowell as well, although almost a century intervenes between their births.

George William Curtis, born February twenty-fourth enriched

our magazine literature by his contributions through a long period of years. In the early fifties he was on the staff of the New York Tribune and later one of the editors of Putnam's monthly, and later still a contributor and editor of Harper's.

Victor Hugo the great French novelist, was born on February twenty-sixth. It is worthy of note that in the persons of Jean Valjean and Sydney Carton, Hugo and Dickens gave to the world perhaps the two greatest characters in fiction.

Last in line is our poet Henry W. Longfellow, born February twenty-seventh. Surely February has made no mean contribution. "Lives of great men all remind us. We can make our lives sublime, And, departing, leave behind us Footprints on the sands of time."

—Eleanor Thompson, Illinois Woman's College.

SHERIFF MAKES REPLY TO CRITICISM

Sheriff W. H. Weatherford yesterday issued the following statement in answer to the criticism relative to the quarters of Mrs. Laura Duncan at the county jail, made by Miss Edith Neal, city matron. The statement reads as follows:

In reply to this statement I wish to say that Mrs. Duncan, while confined as a prisoner, has been shown every consideration in my power, consistent with her safety, and has never at any time made any complaint as to the treatment accorded her.

She has been given the best cell the jail affords. The room in which she is confined is the second from the office and there are two doors between the office and the room in which she is confined. These doors were always kept closed until Mrs. Duncan herself requested them to be kept open. She is constantly attended by Mrs. Weatherford, and no one goes into the part of the jail occupied by her except friends wishing to see Mrs. Duncan, and occasionally the turnkey in accompanying visitors, as is required by law.

I extend to any woman's organization interested in public welfare an invitation to send a committee to the jail to investigate conditions, and will welcome any suggestion they can make for the comfort and welfare of the prisoners that is consistent with safe keeping.

I will further state that since this matter came up I have caused the County Commissioners to visit the jail and in their presence Mrs. Duncan stated that she was well satisfied with the treatment and desired no change. The Commissioners were well satisfied with the conditions under which this woman was being kept and saw fit to suggest no change.

I understand that Miss Neal has hitherto been making statements to the public similar to the one appearing in the paper and feel that same is made more for political effect than from a desire to assist the County Officers in the performance of their duties.

I will welcome any sensible suggestions as to the treatment of prisoners, but the law places the responsibility upon me and not Miss Neal for the safe keeping of prisoners, and when my judgment does not accord with hers I expect my judgment to prevail.

W. H. Weatherford,
Sheriff of Morgan County.

FAMOUS BELASCO PLAY

GRAND THEATRE TUESDAY
David Belasco's famous success "Tiger Rose" with his original production is to be held at the local theatre Tuesday night. That this engagement will be a brilliant one, the name at the head of this article assures. This play of the great Northwest, written by Willard Mack, made theatrical history in New York, where it ran over a year, playing to solid capacity business at the Lyceum theatre, and where it was the principal theme of enthusiastic conversation by the entire metropolitan theatre-going public. "Tiger Rose" was acclaimed by public and critical opinion as a worthy successor to Mr. Belasco's very memorable "The Girl of the Golden West."

Belasco plays are proverbially brilliant in character and following his invariable rule, Mr. Belasco presents this play here, with the original production and his own cast, personally selected by Mr. Belasco himself, and contains the names of well known artists who have figured prominently in former successes, but whose best work is now given to be particularly adapted to the roles furnished them in this play, which held first place in the hearts of theatregoers everywhere because of the strength and purity of its love scenes, the picturesque quality of its Albeta setting, and the beauty of the production given it by the master of stage wizardry.

Steeped in romance, throbbing with human interest, gripping in its tremendous climax, its tensely is frequently relieved by flashes of brilliant comedy and that delicious sense of humor which threads its way through the entire story.

Helen Lewis, whose fascination and charm in the character of Rose Dacot, the "Tiger Rose," is noted, will make her first appearance here in a characterization for its depth and sincerity. Though essentially a verile red blooded drama, "Tiger Rose" is withal a thoroughly human and will be found a delight with all classes of theatregoers. Others in the cast will be Bernard McOwen, as a Royal Northwest mounted police, Chas. Regal, as a factor of the Hudson Bay Trading Post, Jack Bertin, Frank Ryan, James H. Lewis, Ben Hewitt, J. Clayton Earl, Miss Emilie Lessing, and Arthur J. Wood. The production will be the original one and as Mr. Belasco never sends out a second or number two company, universal interest will surely attach to what promises to be one of the season's best theatrical offerings.

A GREAT PICTURE.

Madam X With Pauline Frederick Breaking Records Everywhere Played, Given, Exceptional Praise by Critics—In Class by Itself.

"Film enthusiasts searching for something new in drama with a powerful appeal will find it in this picture. The scenes of tenderness and beauty are finely dealt with. Unquestionably in a class by itself and one of the best features of the last ten years. The dramatic strength and beauty is masterly."

"No more sweeping or powerful exemplification of the divine force of mother love has ever been penned—and certainly never screened. Developed with consummate skill and directed with rare and touching emotions. It is worth seeing twice. It registers as more convincing and moving from the power of its treatment than 'The Miracle Man.'"

ROAD OILING IS PLANNED FOR YEAR

County Board is Cooperating With Road Districts In Effort to Put Roadways Into Good Condition.

There is every prospect that this will be an active year in road oiling in Morgan county. The members of the county board, Messrs. Wheeler, Mawson and Osborne, have done all that they could to encourage the good work in co-operating with the county superintendent of highways, L. V. Baldwin. Road district commissioners have been in conference from time to time with the board and the board has let it be known that it is very distinctly in favor of this type of road improvement, because it will give the people passable road conditions while permanent roads are in the making. Contract has been let by John McDonald, commissioner of the district in which Jacksonville is located, for 80,000 gallons of road oil.

Other orders placed recently are:

District No. 1, J. M. Stice, commissioner, 120,000 gallons.

No. 13, Frank Jolly, commissioner, 40,000 gallons.

No. 6, W. Angelo, commissioner, 90,000 gallons.

The oil is costing 5c a gallon and the commissioners are providing the county oiler and allowing road districts $50 on each car load purchased. As the freight on a gallon of road oil is $.0236 and the price here is 5c per gallon, it will be understood that the price for the oil itself is very low.

As indicated, the commissioners are doing all they can to encourage road oiling, because improvement of this kind means that the roadways must be dragged and graded before the oil is applied. The commissioners are paying particular attention to the thought of having all roadways leading into Jacksonville put in to good passable condition, as this will be beneficial not only to the residents of the city but to those in the surrounding territory as well.

MARRIED IN HANDSOME HOME CEREMONIAL

Nuptials of Miss Dorothy Black and Mr. Wallace Hembrough Solemnized—Will Establish Farm Home.

The marriage ceremonial where-in Miss Dorothy Black became the bride of Mr. Wallace Hembrough was solemnized at 5:30 o'clock Saturday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Carl E. Black, 1202 West State street. Relatives and friends of the Black and Hembrough families to the number of one hundred made up the company. The guests as they arrived were received in the parlor by Dr. and Mrs. Black, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hembrough and the Misses Black.

Miss Marjorie Black sang the verses of Wallace P. Day's, "I Love You, Dear," with Miss Virginia Spink as accompanist, and the wedding party entered the library. There before a graceful bank of ferns the beautiful ring service was said with Dr. Roswell O. Post officiating.

The minister accompanied the groom, then the bridesmaids Misses Marjorie and Betty Black entered preceding the bride who was with her father, Dr. Carl E. Black. The bride's gown was of white georgette trimmed with iridescent beads and was fashioned in a way exquisitely becoming. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and was without a veil.

Miss Marjorie Black's gown was of pink taffeta and Miss Betty Black wore blue taffeta. Each of the bridesmaids carried a bouquet of narcissi intermingled with rose buds.

The ceremony had all the beauty that simplicity and solemnity could give, and that unequalled charm of youth. The same fine touches could be seen in the decorations. The wedding party was stationed before a screen of ferns with simlax stretching in graceful hangings from above while on either side a row of lighted candles gave the desired altar effect.

The guests extended their hearty congratulations. A little later the wedding dinner was served and all of the hospitality extended was of a kind which has ever characterized the Black home. In fact, it was that very home atmosphere that made this wedding ceremonial such a delightful event.

Mrs. Hembrough is the eldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Carl E. Black and is a graduate of Illinois college, she has been interested in those things that go to make up college life and the larger life for which it prepares. She has beside the fine spirit and domesticity which men and women so greatly admire.

Mr. Hembrough is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hembrough of 1502 Mound avenue. He also is a product of Illinois college and it was in the student days that the friendship began which led to this happy marriage ceremonial uniting two of the best known families of the county. Mr. Hembrough is a young man of real worth and has made a special study of agriculture. He has also had practical experience and is well qualified to take the management of the farm southeast of Jacksonville, where he and his bride are soon to establish their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Hembrough left last night for Chicago and after a brief wedding journey will return to Jacksonville.

Among persons here for the wedding are, Mrs. G. V. Black, Miss Clara Black, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Black, H. A. McLaughlin, Chicago; Mrs. Mark Baldwin and daughter, Marjorie of Duluth; Misses Maudie and Grace Mount, Lincoln, Ill.; Miss Gertrude McLaughlin, Doniphan, Neb.; Misses Lucy and Eva Nutt, Lincoln; Clyde Land, Champaign; Mrs. George N. Kreider, Misses Mary and Salome Kreider, Mr. George Kreidler, Springfield; C. Mr. and Mrs. Tomlin, Pleasant Plains.

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG TO APPEAR AT LUTTRELL'S

There are some dramas that we would rather see on the screen than on the stage. Such a drama is "Mid-channel"—known as the greatest play on married life by the greatest playwright on modern marriage—Sir Arthur Wing Pinero. We have read the play and we have seen Ethel Barrymore act the principal role on Broadway—but the performance of Clara Kimball Young in the six-reel picturization of "Mid-channel" surpassed anything we have ever seen. The effect of this wonderful photoplay is electrifying—it is nothing else but a revelation of motion picture achievement—the settings, the gorgeous gowns, the interiors which are lavish to a fault, and above all the remarkable performance of Clara Kimball Young, leave nothing to be desired in screen art. The Majestic Theatre which will present this masterpiece tomorrow and Tuesday is to be congratulated.

Greatest Production in the Last Ten Years

Do Your Hands Chap?

Then this bit of information will grow more valuable as the years pass on.

There is a hand lotion made that is so thoroughly liked that people send for it from numerous parts of this country. The two latest examples of this devotion are: One, a nurse who sends from Detroit, Mich., for the largest size we put up, because in all that wonderful city, she is unable to find its equal and she adds that it is the only thing she has ever found, which will keep her hands in the condition they must be, to work in the operating room. Another lady sends all the way from western Kansas for a whole quare saying she has searched everywhere for something as good being unable to find it, wishes a year's supply. She said she found one rather good one but it was sticky and she could not put on gloves and go, immediately after applying as she can with her favorite.

Again only last week a gentleman from Roodhouse purchased two of our largest bottles and this is the remark he made: "Believe me I can't live without this dope. One of these is for myself, the other for my wife. Say! do you folks know this is the greatest stuff made for use after shaving?"

There can be no higher praise than these actual testimonials. So why not end all your useless suffering, by trying one bottle at 15c (enough to last one month.) Or we will mail a bottle anywhere on receipt of 20c. Oh! Yes, it has a name, "Hazel Cream," but that is of no consequence, except to guard you against a likely substitute. You can get the real at only one place. We make it ourselves.

NEARLY ALL MIDDLE WEST STATES HAVE SUNDAY BLUE LAWS

Most of Them Now Have Statutes Prohibiting Amusements on Sunday—In Other States Cities Have Drastic Ordinances—Many of the Laws are Dead Letter Laws

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Recent agitation on the subject of blue-law legislation and enforcement has revealed that virtually all of the middle western states at the present have Sunday blue-laws, although many have come to be regarded as "dead letter" statutes because of non-enforcement. In a few of these states there has been no state legislation prohibiting Sunday amusements or trade, but ordinances corresponding to Sunday blue laws have been passed by many of the municipalities in such states.

The statute which is most common in the different states is that which prohibits the carrying on of business or trade on the Sabbath excepting works of charity or necessity. In most instances the works of charity or necessity are enumerated and there is a provision, as a general rule, that the statute shall not be construed as to affect persons who conscientiously observe the seventh day of the week instead of the first at the Sabbath.

In Indiana where agitators for the enforcement of the blue laws have been especially active recently, there is only one statute which might be considered as a blue law. This statute relates to Sabbath breaking and its provisions have been interpreted in various ways by law enforcement officers in the different localities. The law provides a fine of $1 to $10 for persons over 14 years of age who are found on Sunday "riotous, hunting, fishing, quarreling, or otherwise engaged in any of their usual avocations." Persons engaged in works of charity or necessity are exempted from the provision.

Baseball games are permitted between the hours of 1 and 6 p.m., providing they are held not less than 1,000 feet from any established house of worship or permanent church structure used for religious purposes. The baseball bill was passed in 1909 as an amendment to the act regarding observance of the Sabbath. Three years later the National Retail Association has been touring Indiana for several weeks discussing Sabbath observance.

An injunction obtained by the Protestant, Ind. Law and Order League forbidding an amusement company to run Sunday picture shows was upheld by the circuit court. In South Bend recently, following failure to observe an order issued by the mayor that dancing halls should be closed on Sunday, a jury found that a Sunday dance hall was not a necessity and the proprietor was guilty of violating the law.

An old Minnesota statute prohibits on Sunday, sporting events, exercises and shows "when they seriously interrupt the repose and religious liberty of the community." The law also specifies that "merchandise, except works of charity and necessity are prohibited on that day. An amendment, however, permits Sunday baseball between the hours of 1 and 6 p.m., and a ruling of the supreme courts permits theaters in that state to operate on Sunday provided they do not seriously hamper or interrupt the quietness of the Sabbath.

Bans all Business. South Dakota also has one law which bans all business on Sunday except that which is "absolutely necessary." Attorney General Payne has ruled that this law is defective and cannot be enforced and a bill has been prepared to be submitted to the state legislature which will legalize Sunday baseball. Two sets of bills also are being prepared, one looking to the repeal of the present blue law and the other providing a new set of laws. Only bills prohibiting Sunday baseball and Sunday movies are expected, to come before the present session of the legislature.

Strictly speaking, there are no blue laws on the Missouri statute books. There are a few laws which might be so construed, according to Attorney General Jesse V. Barret, but these are what are known as "dead letter" laws and are not enforced. Only one blue law, a bill to prohibit the operation of theaters on Sunday has been introduced at the present legislative session.

Iowa has the prevalent blue law providing a fine for persons who on Sunday are engaged in "carrying, preparing, selling, or in any manner disturbing a worshiping assembly or private family, or in using or selling property of any kind, or in any labor except that of necessity or charity." The fine is $1 to $5 and the statute provides for imprisonment in case of non-payment of fine.

On Sunday in North Dakota, but under a law inflicting no penalty on Sunday is permitted at a certain distance from a church, provided no admissions are charged. Other sport events on Sunday with the exception of hunting are banned. Prize fighting is barred, but boxing exhibitions are permitted, no decision may be held. North Dakota also has a law prohibiting service labor on Sunday excepting works of necessity or charity, and one prohibiting sale of most goods.

The blue law in Kansas providing for the closing of theaters on Sunday is enforced quite rigidly. In Kansas on Sunday only drug stores are permitted to do business, manual labor is prohibited and it is against the law for the farmer to work in the field. Kansas also has anti-cigarette and anti-prize fight laws, but cigarettes are said to be on sale in many cities and boxing bouts seldom are interfered with.

Bills are before the present legislature to repeal the anti-cigarette and anti-boxing laws. A bill to prohibit public amusements in Michigan on Memorial day will, if it is passed by the state legislature, constitute the state's first blue law. Sunday amusements are controlled by ordinances in various Michigan cities and towns.

Oklahoma, like Michigan, has no state blue laws but several municipalities in the state have ordinances prohibiting theaters and pool halls to open on Sunday. Records on file at the state house, however, show that such ordinances are few.

In Texas the so-called blue laws prohibit running places of amusement on Sunday, such as picture shows, vaudeville houses, theaters, ten pin alleys, shooting galleries and dance halls. They prohibit selling gasoline, oil or automobile accessories on Sunday. Meat markets can sell their wares until 9 a. m.

Although there are several blue laws on the statute books of Ohio and many city ordinances in Ohio cities aimed to prevent Sabbath desecration, the one that is most frequently invoked is the state law against common labor on Sunday. There is a fine of from $25 to $100 for any one who causes another to labor on Sunday.

Portsmouth, is now living under blue laws, drug stores, ice cream parlors, cigar stores and newsstands are not allowed to open on Sunday. Milk deliveries were stopped for one Sunday, but on appeal of the department of health delivery of milk was permitted and distribution and sale of newspapers on the streets is allowed.

There are laws in Ohio against barbering on Sunday, punishable by a fine of $20 to $30 and 30 days' imprisonment. Theatrical performances, ballroom, bowling and against baseball in the forenoon. Hunting and fishing on Sunday is prohibited by law and even the exhibition of implements for hunting or shooting on Sunday is punishable by a fine.

STANDARDIZATION OF STATE EMPLOYEES' PAY

Is Urged By Salary Investigation Commission Created By Last General Assembly—Little So Far Accomplished.

(By The Associated Press.)

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 19.—Equal pay for equal service for state employees is urged and creation of a commission to find means to this end are recommended in the report of the Salary Investigation commission created by the last General Assembly. The report which was submitted to Governor Small has just been resubmitted to the legislature by him.

"There is a great need for the standardization of salaries paid by the state government," the report states. "At present there is no assurance of equal pay for those performing the same duties."

"Original salaries for new positions and advances and promotions after one is in the state service have not been adjusted so as to treat all state employees equally. Great variations exist in the salaries paid by different offices. One entering the state service has no assurance of treatment equal to that of others doing the same work or of advances for faithful service."

"The state, as an employer does not offer financial opportunities equal to those of private businesses and cannot maintain the proper spirit among its employees unless the known as 'salary' of equal treatment and of advancement if their work merits such advancement."

The commission made a survey of conditions in other states and found that in several legislation for the proper grading of service had been enacted.

Some attempts have been made in Illinois to accomplish this by making lump sum appropriations, especially in the state institutions. Other appropriations have been made with the maximum salary stated, thus giving some discretion in fixing minimum salaries.

"Little has been accomplished," the commission's report adds. "Toward the proper classification of positions or towards an equitable standardization of salaries for state employees. The problem of classification and standardization of state salaries may be said to involve the whole issue as to the policy to be pursued by the state as an employer."

The commission had an appropriation of $15,000 for its investigation, but because it thought the amount insufficient it did not spend it, recommending an appropriation of $25,000 by the present General Assembly for a thorough investigation of the whole subject.

The commission was composed of Edward J. Smekla, Chicago, chairman of the appropriations committee of the house; Morton D. Hull, Chicago, former senator; Simon E. Lanz of Chicago; and Al P. Gorman of Chicago. Representatives Carl Mendenhall, Chicago; Representative Michael Fahy, Tolucan; former Gov. John G. Oglesby; L. L. Emerson, secretary of state; Andrew Russell, state auditor; Attorney General Edward J. Brundage; David Kinley, president of the University of Illinois; and Omar H. Wright, director of the state finance department.

HIGH SPEED FREIGHT ENGINES FOR C. B. & Q.

Locomotives Especially Designed for Fast Freight Service Delivered to Railroad by Baldwin Locomotive Works.

Sixteen Mikado-type 2-8-2 (so-called) locomotives, especially designed for the fast freight service, have been delivered to the C. B. & Q. R. by the Baldwin Locomotive Works, Philadelphia, Pa.

Weighing upwards of 240 tons each, ready for road duty and standing 78 feet, 4 inches long over all, these engines were built to "deliver" live stock, fruit and vegetable freight in record-breaking fashion.

An unusual idea introduced into their construction is that some of these locomotives are built to burn bituminous coal and others are designed to use lignite coal.

Burlington experts have found it cheaper to do this than to haul other coal from foreign fields. These engines have been built to suit the coal found on that particular division on which they are to serve.

The high cost of engines at once comes home to one, when it is learned that each of the "speed boys" cost the pretty sum of $68,750, as against the previous price of $20,000 for similar engines.

FARMERS DESIRE TARIFF ON WOOL

Representative of American Farm Bureau Federation Declares Manufacturer is Protected While Wool Grower is Not.

"Compare the duty of $17.50 on a suit of clothes costing the importer $50 at the port of entry with the proposed tariff of $1.50 the farmers want for the raw wool in that suit," said C. J. Fawcett who was sent by the American Farm Bureau Federation to the ways and means committee in the house of representatives to discuss the direct necessity of protection for the producer of domestic wools.

"Foreign countries can both produce raw wool and manufacture clothing cheaper than the United States," said Mr. Fawcett, but the manufacturer is protected while the grower is not. The fact that wool growers are compelled by law to market this commodity on a free market and purchase a manufactured article on a protected one is unjust discrimination against the wool grower. In case of ready made clothing there is a tariff of 35 per centum ad valorem. The wool growers are asking a tariff of 44 cents a pound on scoured wool or 16 to 20 cents per grease pound. The first ten months of this year 427,000,000 lbs. has remained almost unmarketable.

"Great Britain places the cost of producing raw wool in her dominions at 31 cents a pound, which is 14 cents less than it costs Illinois farmers. And it costs wool growers in this state as much to ship the wool to the Boston market as it costs foreign countries."

Mr. Fawcett further asserted that not only does the foreign producer benefit a cheap production but the low rate of money exchange gives him a bonus of from 20 to 25 per cent for dumping his wool on our market. "If farmers continue to lose $1.73 per fleece as has been the fate of Illinois this year, wool production in this country will cease altogether and the United States will be at mercy of the exporting countries. Only one farmer in ten now keeps sheep.

The settlement and development of Australia will bring about a higher production of foreign wool in the future and the industry in the United States has been allowed to die, manufactures themselves will join in urging inducements to wool production.

The Illinois Agricultural association is hoping to get definite shipping instructions from the American Farm Bureau Federation soon so that farm bureaus can be notified.

The farmers will haul their gift corn to their local elevators, where it will be shelled and loaded into cars. In practically all cases, local elevators will shell and load the corn free of charge as their part of the project which is to be kept purely on a gift basis all along the line. If a car cannot be completely filled at one station, it will be picked up and sent on to the next one. The county agents will arrange all details of transportation in the counties, acting under the direction of the State Farm Bureau Federation. Loaded cars will be routed directly to the nearest of several designated mills which will grind the corn into meal, corn flour and other corn products.

These mills are acting under instructions from the Hoover committee and in that capacity will pay all freight charges. After grinding, they will forward the corn products under Mr. Hoover's instructions to the nearest seaport, from which they will be shipped abroad.

The American Farm Bureau Federation states that it is practically assured that railroads will furnish their equipment free of charge. Howard Jackson, vice president of the United States Grain corporation has been appointed transportation director by Director Carl S. Vrooman.

BILLIONS IN WAR CLAIMS FACING U. S.

Will Aggregate Over Two Billion Dollars—Department of Justice Adds to Its Personnel to Handle Business.

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Feb. 19.—Millions of dollars—and promises of billions—are represented in the great tide of law suits which is beginning to pour into the United States Court of Claims as one of the results of the world war. The court was expressly created to determine legal controversies between private citizens and the government.

The Attorney General says the amount of war claims is enormous and that indications are the influx of cases has only begun. Actions upon claims involving approximately $124,000,000 have already been filed. The ultimate aggregate of claims, it is estimated, will reach between two and three billion dollars. The personnel of the Department of Justice having charge of the defense of these actions has been doubled to enable it to cope with the flood of new litigation.

These war claims are brought into the court by plaintiffs having claims against all departments of the Government. The War Department has claims involving approximately $5,000,000,000. The Bureau of Internal Revenue now has pending claims for refunds and rebates aggregating $650,000,000. The Shipping Board has cancellations of contracts involving over $550,000,000. Claims for patent infringement are estimated by the Attorney General at $100,000,000. The Railroad Administration has differences with the railroads amounting to approximately $750,000,000.

There are also claims proportionately large in amount, arising from the Housing Corporation, the War Risk Bureau, and the Food and Fuel Administration, and it is known that there is a large amount of other claims of miscellaneous character which have not yet been filed.

In preparation for the disposition of this new business this court of claims has selected its dockets and only pending suits but actions based upon these war claims are receiving immediate attention and all cases are disposed of as rapidly as they are presented. One of the first and most important cases affecting claims estimated at $100,000,000, was begun on May 15, 1920. Judgement was rendered June 28, 1920, and an appeal was argued in the U. S. Supreme Court on January 7th.

"The volume of important adjudications in the Court of Claims during the past fiscal year," says the Attorney General "if equalled, has certainly never been exceeded. Since the original act of February 24, 1855, providing a forum in which citizens of the United States might have their claims against the Government adjudicated, the duties of the Court of Claims have steadily increased under legislation enacted from time to time enlarging its scope, until today it is recognized that its importance is not exceeded by any other tribunal. Every conceivable issue between the citizens and the sovereign founded upon contract, express or implied, is presented to that court, and in addition under the so-called Dent Act of March 2, 1919, agreements entered into during the war of an informal nature may be brought to the Court of Claims for award of fair and just compensation. The small percentage of the decisions of the Court of Claims reversed by the Supreme Court of the United States testifies to the character of the decisions rendered."

Among the claims already filed in the court are $60,000,000 for shipping; $20,000,000 for railroad requisition; $26,000,000 for patent infringement; $2,200,000 for aircraft engines and guns; $2,000,000 for transportation of troops and supplies; and $2,500,000 in suits commenced by the packing companies.

AMERICAN SOCIALIST HAS ALL HE WANTS OF SOVIET RUSSIA

Tells Some Gruesome Stories of How Men and Women Were Summoned in the Early Morning Hours to Be Executed—Will Preach Against Bolshevism and Red Flag

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Feb. 19.—Prisoners in the jails of Soviet Russia, when condemned to death, are called out to be shot by soldiers who stalk into the cells after midnight, declares M. Schwartz, of San Francisco, the socialist who went to Moscow to attend a congress of the Third Internationale and was imprisoned there for four months.

(In a previous statement Mr. Schwartz told of the death of his wife as a result of a hunger strike she began to end her imprisonment in Moscow, denounced communism and said he was going back to America to tell the workers there the actual facts about the Russian situation.)

UNITY PRESBYTERIAN SPECIAL MEETINGS

The first week of the special service is now over in Unity Presbyterian church of Woodson, they have been of a constructive character, leading the Christians of our church and community to catch the visions of the possibilities of Christian activity locally, especially among our young people. Friday night was a grand climax to the week's meetings. Rev. Record's Sunbeam chorus sang some fine songs to the audience of grown-ups and it was very inspiring. Rev. Powell gave a heart's stirring message on Samson's downfall with an earnest appeal for renewed dedication of the lives of God's people present. Meetings will continue next week with a distinctive evangelistic message and appeal each night. Sunday morning at 10:30, evening at 7 o'clock, week nights at 7:30.

Dunlap's four piece orchestra will play in the blue room of the Peacock lun this evening. Sunday night supper will be served from six to eight and delightful music will be played for Peacock patrons during those hours.

Tall and gaunt, his black hair and beard heavily streaked with grey, the American, who had been a Bolshevik before a visit to Russia, "saddened and enlightened" him, described in a supplemental statement, the cold fear and trembling in which Soviet prisoners wait for the visits in the dead of night.

"Come in Early Morning."

"They always come between the hours of one and two o'clock," he said. "A Bolshevik soldier walks into the crowded cell and in the instant silence calls out he names of the men, or women, who must die. In the jail where I was, they marched the prisoners down a stairway and into a courtyard. We could hear the volleys of the firing squads. Many men were called out for execution from my cell during those four months. Few of them knew they had been condemned, but generally it was understood they were 'counter-revolutionaries.' They were shot without trial."

After a time the prisoners became inured to these visits and, in the fifth and monotonous of prison life, ceased to care whether their names were called or not, Mr. Schwartz said. Cheerful greetings were often passed as the condemned men were marched out. The men about to die would say their good-byes, wave their cell comrades a so-long, and those remaining would cry out:

"Goodbye. See you later."

"Throughout the first few nights however, Mr. Schwartz said he trembled as with ague, and his clothes, even to his overcoat, were wet with perspiration. Other prisoners, some of whom had been in the jail for more than a year, took the matter cynically and told him, with apparent relish the horrors thru which they had gone. When at last the summons came to Schwartz to leave the cell he said he was certain he was going to the place of execution. But they led him upstairs instead of down. He was taken before an official named Feldman, in whose hands was the power of life and death over all the prisoners in his charge. This man said he had reviewed Schwartz' case and the American was free to go. Then the Bolshevik said:

"Asked for Statement."

"Will you tell me what you think of the Soviet government? Will you go back to the United States and speak against us?" There was a long pause in which thoughts of the four months in prison and the executioners thronged into to American's mind. Then he replied:

"If your government really represents the working men I am for it. All my life I have worked for the laboring classes." E

GRIND YOUR CYLINDERS WHY?

Because you know that when an automobile comes from the maker the engine has true, ROUND cylinders. You also know that as soon as you start to run your engine, wear takes place in the cylinders. Unfortunately the wear is not uniform. Therefore you cannot correct the error simply by changing pistons and rings.

To run right, your engine must have perfectly accurate, ROUND cylinders, otherwise

You Waste Oil
You Waste Gasoline
You Lose Power

If your car is repaired without accurate grinding of the cylinders (to make them ROUND and TRUE) the first step is overlooked to make your old car run as it should.

We Re-Grind Cylinders by a Special Machine as is Done in the Factory.

COLLEGE OF MUSIC NOTES

Miss Beatrice Horsburgh, the new violin teacher at Illinois Woman's college, has recently received a letter from Leopold Auer, the world's greatest violin teacher, who was for many years her master, in which he not only recognizes her as an exponent of his method, but authorizes her to bring pupils to him for examination and entrance to his class. Miss Horsburgh will give her first Jacksonville recital in Music hall on Thursday, March 3.

The following program was given at the bi-weekly informal students' recital in Music hall Thursday afternoon, Feb. 17:

Piano—"The Butterfly" (Grieg), Mearia Nunes.

Voice—"Without Thee" (D'Hardelot), Helen Goudy.

Violin—"Swedish Dance" (Wachmeister), Mildred Owens.

Voice—"Song of June" (Spence Johnson), Evelyn Ross.

Piano—"Prelude" (Chopin), "Song Without Words" (Mendelssohn), Frances Bonansinga.

Voice—"Lullaby" (Cyril Scott), Mildred Mayer.

Violin—"Air on G String" (Matheson), Grace Collier.

Voice—"Eastern Romance" (Rimsky-Korsakoff), "Through Child Eyes" (Sellers), Mona Ramsay.

Piano—"Gavotte G Major" (Bach), "Berceuse" (Bartolome), Grace Rowell.

The recital of Vera Poppe and Isador Berger last Monday evening brought the artists' course presented by the I. W. C. to a successful close. Fine support has been given to all the numbers by the music lovers of Jacksonville. It is certain that another series will be given next year, the numbers to be announced later.

Tuesday and Wednesday fifteen public school music students were excused from other classes in order to take advantage of the opportunity provided by Miss Hopper to attend the Victor demonstrations given at the David Prince and Washington schools by Miss Rich, the Victor representative.

Mrs. Forrest, accompanied by Miss Myrtle Larimore of the faculty, presented a group of songs at the meeting of the Woman's club Saturday, Feb. 12. Friday evening she sang at the Parent Teachers' meeting at the David Prince school, when she was accompanied by Miss Mehus.

The suite by Leo Soverby which Mr. Berger played, ably supported by Mr. Carlin, was one of the most interesting numbers on last Monday evening's program. Mr. Soverby is a very young Chicago composer whose entire musical theoretical education has been received under the tuition of Mr. Arthur Olaf Anderson, with whom Mr. Soverby has studied since he was fourteen years of age. It is of interest to know that Miss Mehus is also a pupil of Mr. Anderson, having studied two years of composition with him.

Members of the I. W. C. orchestra, including Misses Beatrice Horsburgh, Laila Skinner, Bernice Holback and Suzanne Ruehner, played at the wedding of Miss Clara Moore to Mr. Benton Nelms Thursday evening. The program included "Serenade" by Widor, "Nocturne" and "Bridal March" from Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream."

PROMINENT NEW YORK MAN PRAISES TANLAC

John F. Hyatt, of Albany, N. Y., Is Relieved of Severe Attack of Rheumatism of Many Years' Standing.

JOHN F. HYATT,
227 Pearl St., Albany, N. Y.

"I am now seventy-two years old and am just getting rid of fifteen-year case of rheumatism that had me so crippled up I could not walk," said John F. Hyatt, 227 Pearl St., Albany, N. Y., in relating his remarkable experience with Tanlac, recently. Mr. Hyatt was chairman of the committee in charge of building the Albany county courthouse and was four times elected a member of the county board of supervisors. At present Mr. Hyatt is Assistant Superintendent of the Albany county courthouse, with offices in the building.

"I don't believe," he continued, "anybody could have rheumatism any worse than I did, and my case was of such long standing I didn't expect to ever get over it. I was unable to walk except for a short distance, supported with a cane, and even then the pains struck me every time I took a step. My legs, hips and ankles hurt something awful and my joints were stiff and aching. I couldn't cross my leg without having to lift it up with my hands, and to turn over in bed, why, the pains nearly killed me."

"My appetite was gone and the sight of food nauseated me. My stomach was out of order, and I had a sluggish, heavy feeling all the time. I was weak, off in weight and discouraged so that it looked like I might as well quit trying to ever get well."

"I had no idea Tanlac would relieve my rheumatism when I began taking it last spring. I took it because I saw where it would give affellow an appetite. Well, sir, I was the most surprised I ever was in my life when the rheumathe pains began to ease up. I took seven bottles in all and, it's a fact, I didn't have an ache about me, was eating fine and simply felt like I had been made over again."

"I have been in the best of health ever since, with only a single twinge of rheumatism at intervals. I do not need my cane now, but I had been unable to walk without it for several years. I got into the habit of carrying it, and so still take it along. I am enjoying life and health once more and can conscientiously recommend Tanlac as the greatest medicine I have ever run across in all my experience."

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Cover Drug Co., Wyle Drug Co., Franklin & Waverly and leading druggists in all cities.—Adv.

ROODHOUSE TO REMAIN RAILROAD TERMINAL

City Will Probably Continue to be Railroad Terminal of Some Importance Despite New Terminal Facilities of C. & A. at Other Points.

White Hall, Feb. 18.—The City of Roodhouse has been subjected to damage as the result of press reports to the effect that the terminal there is to be abandoned by the C. & A. This latest report emanated from Slater, Mo., and the average reader is led to believe the literal truth of the story. The facts are that Roodhouse will always remain a railroad terminal of more or less importance, just as it has been since the western division was built to that city in 1878. The city possesses one of the best icing stations in the west, and just now is putting into service a water supply of a character that is not excelled.

The C. & A. is reviving plans that were first considered several years ago, the sum total of the result of the materialization of which in the effect upon the importance of the Roodhouse terminal is problematical. The erection of new terminal facilities at Springfield in itself need have no effect upon Roodhouse. There are plans on foot to erect small terminal facilities at Carlinville also, both of which being designed to take care of main line traffic.

The big item that affects Roodhouse is the effect of the move to shorten the route between St. Louis and Kansas City with the abrogation of the Alton-Burlington joint train arrangement through Missouri. To accomplish this, the C. & A. will make two surveys, both of which were considered long before the World War. One of these is the building of a line south from Grand Pass through the drainage districts to Eldred, thence to either Grafton or Jerseyville. There is already a few miles of track extending south from Eldred that would form a part of this proposition. By going to Jerseyville it would tap this line of the C. & A. or by going to Grafton it would use the Bluff Line track to Alton and St. Louis.

It is also proposed to build north from Grand Pass to Quincy, giving a new line from Quincy to St. Louis. This would serve nicely the entire reclaimed area of the Illinois valley, part of which being the erection of huge elevator facilities at Grand Pass. This would ultimately mean the routing of the south business over this line which now goes into Roodhouse. The other route, should the survey through the drainage districts be found unsatisfactory, is to take up the old survey of the western division into White Hall from a point near Schutz Mill. This alone would cut off some ten miles and give the best grade out of the Illinois bottoms that the C. & A. has ever had.

Carrying the story a little further, there are terminal facilities at Booth, Mo., that might be located at Louisiana, at the foot of the Bowling Green hill. Louisiana is more centrally located between Springfield and Slater and between Venice and Slater than is Roodhouse, and here is where the "rub" comes if the proposed terminals at Louisiana are given the status of a regular terminal. Where trains would be made up for the south, east and west. Such an arrangement would eliminate one item of expense in that switch engines could then be used from Louisiana up the Bowling Green hill to get trains up the steep incline that now require a pusher engine in service that remains idle a good part of the time. A switch engine could do the pushing and then resume work in the yards at switching.

The city of Louisiana is said to have offered the C. & A. any amount of land it wants and free water if they will locate the Booth terminal at Louisiana, and there is no question that the C. & A. management has been considering the matter. These moves require a great deal of time in their development, and through it all there is not logic in the statement that Roodhouse is to be abandoned as a terminal point by the C. & A. R. B. Pearce.

As an attraction we will sell 500 and perhaps 1000 A No. 1 hedge posts. Now this is a chance to get something every farmer needs, at your price.

TRAINS WILL BE MET—We will meet the east and west train at Drake at around noon and the 11 o'clock train at Barrow and take you back in time to catch the evening train. We will sell everything but the mules and horses before dinner, and the mule sale will start at 1:30 p. m. This is our fifth annual sale. The other sales were good ones. We have the best stuff this year we have ever had, but of course we are caught in this so-called readjustment, and this will be a bargain sale.

On account of the tightness of the money market we have arranged to carry paper on this sale at 7 per cent interest.

The Patterson Baptist church ladies will serve dinner.

Daily Market Report

PRICE OF WHEAT

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Wheat and evening up and some buying which was credited to seaboard accounts was responsible for higher wheat prices today. Other cereals were affected by wheat and provisions recovered part of their loss because of the strength in grains. At the finish wheat recorded a net gain of 2 to 2 1/2¢ with March $1.70 to $1.70 1/4 and May $1.60 to $1.60 1/4; corn finished 3/4 to 1 1/2¢ higher and oats were up 1/4¢ to 1¢. Provisions were 10 to 25¢ lower.

Wheat gained strength after a small break at the start and finished strong. There was heavy profit-taking by shorts through the session and this was the principal source of strength. Some buying was encouraged by reports of 1,000,000 bushels sold for export at the seaport the past few days. Cold and wet weather over the southwest allayed fears of damage from green bugs and was responsible for the early weakness.

There was some good class of buying of May corn to remove hedges against sales to the seaboard and unless later reported around half a million bushels sold for export.
Oats followed corn and advanced readily.
Provisions were easier earlier on selling by commission houses on outside orders but made moderate recoveries because of the strength of grains.

Knights of Columbus and other organizations officially accredited to the French army, are to be awarded a French medal commemorative of the world war.

The return from Flanders Field of the body of an unidentified American soldier for interment in the new amphitheatre at Arlington cemetery was approved by the Secretary of War, General Pershing and Major General John A. Lejeune.

It was suggested that next Memorial day be set aside as the time for this interment at Arlington.

Five of the bravest soldiers of the French army are to receive a reward of 1000 francs annually (normally $200) each, in accordance with the will of a patriotic Alsatian named Metzger. Each of the five chosen has already received the Legion of Honor medal, one the Medaille Militaire, the War Cross and a record of 19 citations.

Under a recent order from the war department, a school for the teaching of typewriting and stenography is to be established at each area headquarters for warrant officers. These men are to supplant the women field clerks, who were appointed under a "temporary" order to make up for a shortage of qualified men clerks caused by the emergency of war.

Comparing the different countries in the training of disabled war ex-service men to become self-supporting the United States leads the world with 65,630 actually in training. The nearest approach is Canada with 38,374 men in training on November 30, 1920. Great Britain reported on June 8, 1920, 44,500 entered in training, and a waiting list of 25,099.

The Italian airship Roma, believed to be the largest semi-rigid aircraft in the world, was recently purchased by the United States army for approximately $200,000.

The Roma is 41 feet long, 82 feet wide and 82 1-2 feet high, and equipped with 12-cylinder engines of 40-horsepower each. It has an estimated speed of 80 miles an hour and a cruising radius at full speed of 2300 miles.
